

WHITE SOX FAVORED TO WIN WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

McGeehan Favors White Sox To Repeat 1917 Triumph

Can't Dodge the Dope That Statistics and Indications Point to Chicagoans Coming Through as They Did in Tussle With Giants

By W. O. McGeehan

The opening game of the world's series which is scheduled for Cincinnati on Wednesday should tell the tale of the meeting. In this game Kid Gleason will put in his one best bet, Eddie Ciccotte, the shine ball artist, all rested and with his highly important soup bone well oiled and running smoothly.

If the infuriated Reds, with their backs to the wall on their own home lot and inspired by the fury of the Cincinnatians, the most rabid fans in the world, are able to overcome this advantage, then the world's series will begin to look like something else again. The dope will be crossed as it was by the Braves. But it does not seem to be in the cards for the dope to be crossed this year.

What Patrick Aloysius Moran may do in the pitching line is hard to predict at this time. Patrick is a cagey sort of strategist. He doesn't show his battle map this far in advance. It looks as though Sallee, or Ruether would start for the Reds. But that is still Patrick's secret. Patrick has plenty of pitchers, comparatively speaking, while the White Sox have just three working hurlers.

According to the dope as it presents itself to those who are backing the White Sox, Ciccotte will win the first game right in the back yard of the Reds. The effect of this victory, which the White Sox backers already concede to Gleason, will be depressing to the Reds. That's the theory of the thing.

Reds Are Fighters

But are the Reds so easily discouraged? Recall, for a moment, the "crucial series" of the National League, when the Reds came to the Polo Grounds to fight it out with the Giants for the pennant. The Reds took a double header from the Giants, and on the very next day the Giants came back and took a double header from the Reds. This would have discouraged any team that was not thoroughly game.

Were the Reds discouraged? Not so that it was in any way visible to the nude optic. They came right back and took a double header from the Giants. And right then and there they took the pennant right out of the prehensile talons of John Joseph McGraw. After that the Giants were licked for the season.

So you see that it is no cinch that the Reds will crumple up after losing one skirmish. Theoretically they should have crumpled during the grueling battle of Cogan's Bluff, but they didn't. Consequently our Giants finished in second place.

From one point of view, a defeat in the opening game would jolt the White Sox considerably, considering their shortage of first string pitchers. According to the plans of the Sox, they will work just three during the series. Ciccotte is figured to win the first game, then to come back following Williams and Kerr. If Ciccotte does not win the first game, the sportively inclined punts who have backed them with money will be exceedingly anxious as to the ultimate outcome.

White Sox Should Win

There is plenty of ground to provide anxiety for the White Sox backers if they are inclined to be morbid, but the dope, which is not crossed so frequently, says that the White Sox should win and without going through the nine games either. They are the toughest team in the toughest league. They are the "smarter" ball club and the "smarter" ball club always has the advantage in a world's series.

As a machine the Reds have plenty of fight. As individuals there are a few weak sisters. The White Sox are all battlers and under the

Gleason in Baseball More Than 35 Years

WILLIAM "KID" GLEASON, manager of the Chicago White Sox, has been in major league baseball thirty-three years. He was born at Camden, N. J., October 26, 1863, and began his baseball career in 1886 at Williamsport, Penn.

While James Callahan was manager of the Chicago American League team, Gleason was assistant manager and coach, and after Callahan was replaced by Clarence Rowland in 1917, Gleason continued with the club as aid to Rowland. The next season Gleason stepped out of baseball and went into business in Philadelphia. Before the present season was started, Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, decided upon a change of manager and Gleason was reengaged.

Gleason tips the scales at about 175 pounds and is 5 feet 7 1/2 inches tall. He is married and lives in Philadelphia. This is the seventh year that Gleason has been with the White Sox. In the old days Gleason, who is a student of the "old school," was a member of the famous Baltimore Orioles, and still carries out all his teachings of the old masters—light and never give up.

In his early days in baseball Gleason was a pitcher.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

On the evening of October 1, 1919, a command of a little gent whose nickname is battle.

KIDGLEASON MANAGER

Sketches of Chicago Veterans

EDWARD T. COLLINS, second baseman, is one of the leading ball players in the country. This will be his sixth year in the White Sox. Collins was born at Philadelphia, Pa., December 4, 1885, and started his baseball career at Haverhill, Mass., in 1907. He is five feet ten inches tall, weighs 175 pounds, is married and lives in Pittsfield, Mass.

OSCAR FELSCH, outfielder, is playing his fifth year with the Chicago club. He came from the Milwaukee club of the American Association. "Happy's" first professional baseball engagement was with Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1913. He is five feet ten inches tall, weighs 175 pounds, is married and lives in Milwaukee, Wis., where he was born, April 7, 1891.

RAY C. SCHALK, catcher, broke into baseball as a member of a team at Taylorville, Ill. Later he joined the Milwaukee American Association club and came there to play in 1910. He is a member of the White Sox since 1917. He was born at Harvey, Ill., August 12, 1892, is married and lives at Litchfield, Ill. He is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 150 pounds. He bats and throws right-handed.

GEORGE WEAVER, third baseman, was born August 18, 1891, at Stow, Vt., and began playing in 1910 at Northampton, Mass. Eight years ago he joined the White Sox, coming from San Francisco. He is five feet ten inches tall, weighs 165 pounds, is married and lives in Chicago. For a time this season he played shortstop with McMillan in a trial, but when Rinsberg returned to the game, "Buck" took up the former position.

ARNOLD "CHICK" GANDIL, first baseman, was born in St. Paul, Minn., January 15, 1880, and started baseball as a professional in 1908 at Shreveport. He has been in the American League for nine years, first with Chicago, which club later released him. He then went to Washington and after a time became the property of the Cleveland club. At the start of the 1917 season President Comiskey was disappointed in the failure of Jack Nease to report to the club to play the initial sack, and as Gandil would not report to the Cleveland club, the White Sox owner purchased Gandil's contract from Cleveland. Gandil filled the gap to the satisfaction of President Comiskey, and he has remained a fixture there ever since. Gandil is six feet two inches tall, and weighs 160 pounds. He is married and lives in Chicago.

JOSEPH JACKSON, one of the greatest outfielders in the American League is playing his tenth year in the major leagues. He joined the Chicago club five years ago, coming from the Cleveland club. His first baseball was played at Greenville, S. C., in 1908. Jackson was born July 16, 1887, at Greenville. He is six feet tall and weighs 175 pounds. He is married and lives in Savannah, Ga.

JOHN COLLINS, outfielder, has been in the major leagues for ten years and always as a member of the Chicago club. He plays right or center field and also can play a good game at first base. "Red" was born at Charleston, S. C., December 4, 1885, and started his baseball career at Haverhill, Mass., in 1907. He is five feet ten inches tall, weighs 175 pounds, is married and lives in Pittsfield, Mass.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

EDWARD V. CICCOTTE is one of Manager Gleason's pitching "aces." He was born in Detroit, Mich., June 19, 1884. He entered professional baseball in 1904 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. He was a member of the Augustan, Ga., team of the Southern Association at the time Fyres Cobb was playing there, and both went to the Detroit Americans. Ciccotte was sent back, but later joined the Boston Red Sox. He was released to the White Sox about eight years ago. He bats and throws right-handed. He is married and resides in Detroit. He is five feet eight inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

Ten of World's Series Players Hail From Penn

Illinois Is Next on the List With Seven, While Ohio Has Four

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Pennsylvania has the distinction of having the greatest representation in the baseball classic this year. Ten players from that state will battle for the highest honors in baseball. Four of them are members of the Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox manager, William Gleason, heads the list of Quakers. Along with the fighting manager is Eddie Collins, Eddie Murphy, utility fielder, and J. Erskine Mayer, side-arm pitcher, are the other members from Pennsylvania.

The Reds have two pitchers, Ray B. Ruether and Ed Garner, an outfielder, S. R. Magee, and three outfielders—Jacob Daubert, first base, Morris Rath, second base, and James L. Smith, third base—as members from Pennsylvania.

Illinois is the next on the list. The Prairie State is represented by seven players, six of whom are members of the White Sox and one is on the payroll of the Reds. Three of the White Sox live in Chicago. They are Sullivan, Weaver and Gandil. Ray C. Schalk also lives there, as well as Fred Lynn Arnold, George Lowdermilk, the elongated right-handed pitcher, and John H. Sullivan, alias "Lefty," a former Chicago semi-professional twirler, make up the others. H. O. Eller, who was at one time on the Comiskey payroll, is the only member from the state of Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses S. Grant on the Cincinnati roster.

Ohio, where the other end of the world's series will be played, is tied with California for third place in the list of contributing states. It lays claim to four members. The Buckeye State quartet are all members of the Reds—Harry Grob, Earle Neale, Harry P. "Slim" Sallee and Henry W. Schreiber. California is represented in the fray with four players. The trio of Pacific Coast men with the Gleason outfit are Joseph Jenkins, catcher; Charles A. Rinsberg and Fred McMillan. William H. Ruether, former member of the Chicago Nationals and now one of the "aces" on the Reds' pitching staff, is the other member from the Golden Gate state.

Michigan and Indiana will be represented by three members each. Michigan is the home of Eddie A. Ciccotte, Harry Leibold and "Big Boy" Jones, the 6 feet 4 1/2 inch pitcher, who also hail from Michigan. This state also has the distinction of furnishing the tallest trio of Pacific Coast men with the Gleason outfit are Joseph Jenkins, catcher; Charles A. Rinsberg and Fred McMillan. William H. Ruether, former member of the Chicago Nationals and now one of the "aces" on the Reds' pitching staff, is the other member from the Golden Gate state.

Two states have contributed two members each. These are Texas and Massachusetts. Richard Kerr is on Comiskey's club, while A. Roy Mitchell, also a mound artist, is the Texas member of the Reds. Massachusetts has produced two veterans of the game. Patrick Moran is the National League representative, while John "Shanty" Collins, outfielder, member of the White Sox for the last ten years, represents the "junior's" organization. Urban "Red" Faber is the Iowa representative.

Three southern states will be represented in the series—Georgia, Kentucky and South Carolina. The first named state contributes one member each to the Reds and White Sox. Ty B. Wingo makes his home in Georgia, while Claude Williams represents that state on Comiskey's club. "General" Joe Jackson hails from South Carolina, although more recently having claim to Georgia. Hervey McClellan, the fast little utility infielder, is from Kentucky.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Vermont has sent Ray L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Alon. New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict—R. H. Wilkinson, James J. Ring and Charles H. See, who is from Long Island. Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, William L. Kopf, the shortstop. Wisconsin, where numerous White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this season. He is Oscar "Happy" Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

Complete 1919 Pitching Records Of World's Series Contenders

CHICAGO WHITE SOX (American League)
Pitcher	Games pitched	Innings	R	H	W	L	P	Shut-outs	Strike outs	B.B.	WP
Ciccotte (R)	39	222 2/3	70	242	29	7	80 1/3	10	101	24	1
Williams (L)	39	292 1/3	97	261	28	10	87 2/3	7	104	35	0
Kerr (L)	38	210 1/3	80	202	12	8	65 2/3	1	105	35	2
Faber (R)	20	165 1/3	92	139	5	9	33 2/3	0	47	38	2
James (R)	5	39 1/3	12	90	1	2	4 2/3	0	10	10	2
Lowdermilk (R)	19	88 2/3	44	90	4	4	13 2/3	0	38	18	2
Wilkinson (R)	2	13	0	9	1	0	1 2/3	0	5	5	0
Mayer (R)	5	18 2/3	20	26	2	2	1 2/3	0	5	5	2
Sullivan (L)	3	7	5	5	0	0	0 2/3	0	1	1	0
Totals	115	142 1/3	420	1,064	84	42	58 1/3	16	420	208	9

Complete nine-inning games pitched—By Williams, 29; Ciccotte, 22; Faber, 9; Kerr, 8; Lowdermilk, 3; James, 2; Wilkinson, 1. Extra-inning games—Fifteen innings, Ciccotte, 1; fourteen innings, Ciccotte, 1; thirteen innings, Kerr, 1; ten innings, Ciccotte, 2; Faber, 1.

Low-hit games—Two hits—Williams, 1. Three hits—Ciccotte, 1; Faber, 1. Four hits—Ciccotte, 2; Williams, 4; Faber, 1. Five hits—Ciccotte, 1; Williams, 2; James, 2; Kerr, 1; Wilkinson, 1. Bats—Kerr, 1.

CINCINNATI REDS (National League)
		Innings	Shut-Outs
Pitcher	Games pitched	R	H	W	L	P	outs	outs	B.B.	WP
Luque (R)	20	166	51	89	10	7	75 2/3	2	38	29	1
Ruether (L)	21	217 2/3	84	177	10	6	75 2/3	2	103	39	4
Sallee (L)	29	219	55	203	20	7	54 1/3	1	11	3	1
Fisher (R)	25	176 1/3	53	138	15	5	72 2/3	4	108	36	2
Eller (R)	36	229 2/3	59	202	19	8	75 2/3	1	82	46	6
Ring (R)	31	170	52	144	10	6	55 2/3	1	82	46	6
Garner (L)	5	17	10	22	1	1	5 2/3	0	2	2	2
Breaster (L)	11	38 2/3	18	32	1	4	26 2/3	0	8	4	0
Bitchell (R)	7	30 1/3	17	33	0	1	39 2/3	0	10	8	0
Totals		1,264 2/3	395	1,040	93	61	684	19	227	204	18